Paid jobs do exist!

The Hospital Sterilisation and Disinfection Unit is one of the largest NHS sterile service organisations in the UK.

I work in a busy production environment picking, batching, scanning and packing medical items.

I am contracted as a Clinical Orderly working full time at Eastbourne Hospital. It feels great to be working full time, I like being independent and earning my own money. Everyone on the ward is so friendly and helpful and the nurses say they appreciate my help. It feels good on a Friday afternoon knowing that I have worked a full week.

I had work experience as a Buffer and Laundry Assistant. I then worked as a Housekeeper on Littleington and Berwick Ward. Now I am on Bank as a Housekeeper and enjoying it very much.

From my rotation in Health Records I always wanted to work for them as this is where my skills are. I enjoy administration and working as part of a team.

Sebastian Lynn

I am at the frontline of the business at McDonalds, dealing with customers every day.

My induction and training was mostly online with 11 modules and assessments at the end to see what I remembered.

I am responsible for customer service, food preparation and cleanliness and hygiene.

Louise Williams

I sent and handed out lots of CV's and cover letters. I am working part time in Primark in Eastbourne alongside undertaking an apprenticeship with the East Sussex County Council in Business Administration.

Luke Dowling

I really thought I wanted to do a Mechanics Apprenticeship as I had studied mechanics and body repair at college.

After starting initial training in a garage I found that actually this wasn't for me and started to look for work in warehouse and computing.

I now have contacted work 25 hours a week for Wickes in Hailsham.
