A-LEVELS

Photography	Come and explore the fascinating world of photography within the Media department at Eastbourne campus. You will meet our tutors and see our facilities along with having a go at making your own content to share after the event.
Physics	Physics A-Level is a fascinating subject that will help you develop a range of practical, analytical and evaluative skills. In the first year, you will learn about mechanics, electric circuits, and materials. In the second year, we will cover more advanced topics such as nuclear and particle physics, and thermodynamics.
Politics	A lively Politics taster session where we provide a different insight into the world we live in, both past and present. We want to hear your opinions on the political agendas and how you think the country should be run. You'll also find out where A-Level Politics can take you next.
Psychology	Learn more about Psychology, the brain, our memory and much more in this A-Level taster session. You will have the opportunity to take part in activities that will help you understand the anatomy of the brain. There will also be a series of experiments conducted on the day that will test your memory and how reliable it is - and we will also examine how obedient you are and discuss some of the reasons why people obey to the authorities!
Sociology	Join us for our A-Level Sociology taster session where you will start to develop a critical view of the world we live in. Question, discuss and evaluate a range of social issues and understand society, including its complex relationships between human beings. We'll discuss sexism, racism, crime, religion, education, and equality.

Biology	On this course you will learn about Biology, disease, and the wide variety of living organisms. Biology is an interesting and fascinating subject - the key question that underpins Biology is 'How does life work?'.
Business Studies	Are you a budding entrepreneur? Do you aspire to be in a managerial position? Are you a customer or an employee? Business Studies is relevant to everyone! This is the perfect opportunity to discover why Business Studies is for you!
Chemistry	Explore organic Chemistry in this fascinating taster session. Look at a range of different topics that are studied on this course including: carbon compounds including petroleum fuels, food, medicines, cosmetics, clothes, DNA and life! You will explore some of these topics through hands-on experiments.
Criminology	If your TV's always on the 'True Crime' channel, then you'll love this session looking into why people commit crimes. Should there be more lenient or harsher sentencing for certain crimes? And what role does the media play in influencing the way we view crimes? See why laws change over time and find out what two A-Level subjects perfectly complement this course.
English Language	What does your language say about you? Are you judged for it? The most useful resource in language is you and your experiences. We'll look at accents, dialects and the wider attitudes towards language variation.
English Literature	Do you have a love of reading? Come and explore how literature teaches us lessons about what it means to be human through themes such as love, death, power, and loss.
Film Studies	Come and explore the power of film during our Film Studies A-Level taster session. You will discover what influence and impact cinema has over the spectator in this introductory lesson!"
Geography	Come and get involved with our Geography A-Level taster session and find out why there has never been a better or more important time to study Geography. With growing interest in issues such as climate change, migration, environmental degradation and globalisation, Geography is one of the most relevant courses you could choose to study.
History	Who is the biggest tyrant in History? Come and get involved in our taster session where we will look at some of the most 'evil' dictators in history.
Maths & Further Maths	Model a Zombie Apocalypse to explore number sequences and predict the future. Maths is often about spotting patterns and then making predictions, but don't let the numbers carry you away - see if you can improve the model!
Media	The first thing we do when we wake up is switch on our phones, the TV or radio, scroll through the adverts and catch up on the latest news, sport or showbiz/movie headlines. We're going to take you behind-the-scenes of these industries to ask questions like: Why is that studio the colour blue? Is that pop video sexist or empowering? Does it matter who owns my social media account? Why has the director used an extreme close-up there?
